Finding a network provider

Commonly asked questions

Q. How do you find out if a provider is an LGBTQ+ ally?

A. Suggestions would be to look at their website or online reviews from other patients, or call and ask if they regularly work with LGBTQ+ patients.

Q. What if someone's not ready to share their sexual orientation or gender identity?

A. Patient information is kept confidential and private. That's the law. But if you are under 18, your parent or guardian may be able to see your information. If you have concerns, talk to your provider privately. You can ask them not to include your answers in your medical record.

Finding an LGBTQ+ supportive provider

To find a provider who is LGBTQ+ culturally sensitive, visit myuhc.com and tap the Find Care & Costs tab. Type LGBTQ in the search bar—and you'll be guided to caring providers here to help. If your search only offers ones outside your area, contact a UnitedHealthcare Advocate.

General prescription coverage

Find out more about your pharmacy benefits

CVS/caremark is your pharmacy benefits manager. You automatically have prescription coverage through CVS/caremark when you sign up for a Greenberg Traurig Medical Plan. The Caremark Cost Saver program allows UnitedHealthcare members access to lower costs for many common generic medications covered under the plan. The program, through GoodRx, automatically provides the lowest price at the point of sale. A price comparison is conducted automatically, eliminating the need to shop around and any member out-of-pocket cost will be applied towards the plan out-of-pocket maximum.

PrudentRX Specialty Drug Program

If you (or a dependent) are enrolled in the Network Plan and take specialty medications, you may be eligible for the PrudentRX Copay Program to help pay for those medications using the manufacturers copay assistance program. If you enroll in the program, you will have no copay for covered prescriptions. If you are eligible for the program but don't enroll, a 30% coinsurance will apply to covered prescriptions. If you are eligible for the program, PrudentRX will reach out to you directly by phone and email.

For those enrolled in the Tiered PPO or One Step PPO, PrudentRX program does not apply. Please contact CVS/caremark at 1-866-387-2573 regarding Specialty Rx and how specialty medications are covered under your specific plan.

HIV services

Today, more tools than ever are available to prevent human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), including the use of HIV prevention medicines such as pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) and post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP).¹ Treatment for people who have HIV is called antiretroviral therapy (ART). ART may help people live long, healthy lives and prevent them from transmitting HIV to others.²

HIV screening

The only way to know your HIV status is to get screened. Knowing your status gives you powerful information to keep you and your loved ones healthy. HIV screenings are 100% covered under the medical plan, when performed by a network provider. People at increased risk for HIV infection should get screened more often.* To learn more about the risk factors, visit the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention website.³

HIV prevention

PrEP

Certain HIV medications can be taken to reduce the chance of getting HIV—this is called pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP). PrEP medications, as well as necessary network clinic visits and lab tests related to PrEP, are 100% covered. This includes:

- Kidney function testing (creatinine)
- Serologic testing for hepatitis B and C virus
- Testing for other STIs, pregnancy testing when appropriate
- Ongoing follow-up and monitoring including HIV screening every 3 months

*As recommended by your physician.

PEP

Post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP) medicine is meant to be taken after possible exposure to prevent HIV. PEP should only be used in emergency situations and must be started within 72 hours after a recent possible exposure to HIV. Cost-sharing applies, including deductibles, copays or coinsurance.

Talk to your health care provider about potential risk factors and what screening, preventive and treatment options are available.

HIV treatment

Once HIV treatment is started, it usually takes 3 to 6 months for the viral load to reach an undetectable level. Although medicines cannot cure HIV, having an undetectable viral load helps people with HIV live longer, healthier lives and provides them with effectively no risk of transmitting HIV.⁴

There are 2 types of HIV treatment, or ART:

- Pills: Antiretroviral therapy (ART) usually involves taking a combination of HIV medicines (called an HIV treatment regimen) every day. A person's initial HIV regimen generally includes 3 antiretroviral (ARV) drugs from at least 2 different HIV drug classes. There are also FDA-approved single pill medicines available.
- Shots: People who have had an undetectable viral load (or have been virally suppressed) for at least 3 months may consider shots. HIV treatment shots are long-acting injections given by your health care provider and require routine office visits (once a month or once every other month, depending on your treatment plan).

For more information, talk to your health care provider. The coverage for HIV treatment includes medications as well as necessary network clinic visits and lab tests. Cost-sharing applies, including copays and deductibles.

For more information about your prescription medication coverage, sign in at caremark.com or call CVS/caremark at 1-866-282-5526.

What you need to know

Your health plan benefits provide coverage for a range of gender-affirming procedures.

Get the most out of your coverage

Whether you're just starting to explore your options or are planning a procedure, this information may help you better understand how to maximize your benefits when getting care. Sharing this information with your doctors may also help when creating your care plan.

Eligibility

Gender-affirming surgical procedures may be covered for employees, spouses/domestic partners and dependents enrolled in a medical plan if they meet the applicable medical policy criteria:

1. Persistent, well-documented gender dysphoria
2. Capacity to make a fully informed decision and consent for treatment
3. Must be 18 years of age*
4. Favorable psychosocial-behavioral evaluation to identify risk factors or potential post-operative challenges
5. Have lived full time in their identified gender for 12 months prior to genital surgery

*This refers to chronological age, not biological age.

Enriching the network in support of transgender-affirming providers

UnitedHealthcare is reviewing all network providers, which includes contacting offices directly to validate whether new patients are being accepted and whether the providers actively treat transgender patients.

Note: Facility-based providers, such as radiologists, anesthesiologists and assistant surgeons are often out-of-network, regardless of whether the primary surgeon is. If a balance bill is received from one of these providers and the service was received at a network facility with a network surgeon, please call a UnitedHealthcare Advocate for assistance.

What you need to know (cont'd)

Clinical assessments

A clinical assessment is an important step for determining eligibility for gender-affirming procedures. A qualified health care professional* provides documentation—in the chart and/or clinical assessment letter—of the patient’s personal treatment history, progress and eligibility.

One clinical assessment

This is required from a qualified health care professional for all gender-affirming care, including hormone therapy, voice modification therapy, tracheal shave and breast/chest surgery.

Two clinical assessments

These are required from qualified health care professionals who have independently assessed the patient for genital surgery.

To begin a clinical assessment, have your provider contact UnitedHealthcare at 1-833-312-1227.

*Health care professionals who recommend surgery share the ethical and legal responsibility for that decision with the surgeon.

What you need to know (cont'd)

Prior authorization

This section covers the prior authorization process for determining if a service is covered by your plan. Helpful hint: Call an Advocate as soon as you begin to consider surgery or continuous hormone therapy to let us help you navigate your journey.

Search: We can help you find the right providers for you and also understand the importance of using network providers.

Find: When you visit a network doctor for care, the physician may identify a service that requires prior authorization. If you have trouble, call UnitedHealthcare.

Inquire: Your doctor should contact UnitedHealthcare to ask about the proposed service.

Verify: UnitedHealthcare reviews the request to verify the service is a covered benefit, meets the criteria for coverage and is performed at the appropriate place.

Inform: UnitedHealthcare will inform you and your doctor about the benefit coverage determination. Together, you should review the determination letter and chart out a course of care.

Claim: Upon approval, you and your doctor will be notified.
Helpful hint: Reach out to an Advocate if notification hasn't occurred.

Family formation

Family planning

UnitedHealthcare offers a variety of family planning benefits for same-sex couples. Today, an increasing number are planning and creating their families through assisted reproductive technology (ART) and surrogacy, as well as adoption and foster care. Just how many LGBTQ+ families are on the rise? Between 2M–3.7M children under age 18 are reported to have an LGBTQ+ parent⁵—and 63% of LGBTQ+ people who are planning families expect to use ART, foster care or adoption to become parents.⁶

Family reimbursement program

If you are thinking about adoption or surrogacy, Maven is here to help you welcome your new child. With Maven, you have support to cover the costs of bringing a new child into your family. All U.S. employees and their covered spouse or domestic partner are eligible for this benefit. You can get reimbursed up to $35,000 in your lifetime for eligible expenses related to surrogacy or adoption of a child.

For more information

Get started by visiting mavenclinic.com/join/getsupport or download the Maven Clinic app to your iOS® or Android® device. For help contact support@mavenclinic.com. Enrollment in Maven is confidential.

Surrogacy options

Surrogacy

A surrogate child is carried via gestational/traditional surrogacy. Surrogacy and gestational carrier options are important because there are individuals who are unable to carry a pregnancy to term. It's also an important option for same-sex couples.

Traditional surrogacy

When a person donates their own eggs and becomes pregnant, usually by artificial insemination or transfer of a fertilized egg into their uterus, for the purposes of carrying a baby for another person. A traditional surrogate has a genetic link to the baby.

Gestational carriers

A gestational carrier, or gestational surrogate, is a person who becomes pregnant, usually by transfer of a fertilized egg to their uterus for the purposes of carrying a baby for another person. The gestational carrier is not the source of the egg and has no genetic link to the baby.

Fertility treatments

Assisted reproductive technologies (ART)

ARTs are fertility treatments in which the egg is fertilized with sperm outside of a person's body and then placed in the uterus. ART encompasses IVF and ICSI.

IVF is the most common type of ART

With IVF (in vitro fertilization), spontaneous fertilization occurs in a petri dish.

ICSI (intracytoplasmic sperm injection)

With ICSI, sperm may be directly injected into the egg.

Cryopreservation

Cryopreservation is a fertility preservation option that's often selected due to medical necessity reasons, for example, when the member is faced with a medical condition where the treatment may leave them infertile (like cancer treatment) or when they electively choose to freeze their eggs or sperm to use at a later date.

Cryopreservation entails the process of cooling and storing cells, tissues or organs at very low or freezing temperatures to save them for future use. It is used to preserve embryos, sperm, oocytes (eggs), ovarian tissue or testicular tissue for use at a later time.

Insemination procedures

These procedures include artificial insemination (AI) and intrauterine insemination (IUI).

- In artificial insemination, a doctor inserts sperm directly into a person's cervix, fallopian tubes or uterus
- The most common method is called intrauterine insemination, where a doctor places the sperm in the uterus

Ovulation induction

People who ovulate infrequently or who do not ovulate at all are most benefited by ovulation induction, which is often achieved through use of fertility drugs such as clomiphene (Clomid®), letrozole (Femara®), recombinant FSH (follicle-stimulating hormone), human menopausal gonadotropin, etc. Ovarian stimulation is also sometimes used for women who do ovulate in conjunction with other treatments.

Testicular sperm aspiration (TESA)/Microsurgical epididymal sperm aspiration

TESA is a procedure performed for people who are having sperm retrieved for IVF/ICSI. It is done with local anesthesia in the operating room or office and is coordinated with a partner's egg retrieval. A needle is inserted in the testicle and tissue/sperm are aspirated.

Electroejaculation

Electroejaculation is a procedure used to obtain semen samples. The procedure is used for the treatment of an ejaculatory dysfunction.

Pre-implantation genetic testing

Testing is performed when the genetic parents carry a gene mutation, to determine whether that mutation has been transmitted to the embryo.

FAQ

Q: Why is it important to use network providers?

A: Network providers generally:

- Bill the patient only for applicable deductible, copays and/or coinsurance
- Submit claims on behalf of members directly to the plan
- Work with the plan to gain the appropriate prior authorizations
- Have passed the accepted credential review and quality requirements for UnitedHealthcare
- Use network facilities, labs and other providers

Out-of-network providers generally:

- Bill patients for deductible, copays and/or coinsurance in addition to the difference between their billed amount and the covered amount—this can add up to thousands of additional dollars out-of-pocket for the patient (called balance billing)
- May require full payment prior to the services being rendered
- May not submit claims directly to insurance companies, leaving the patient to obtain reimbursement
- May not have passed the accepted credential review and quality requirements for UnitedHealthcare
- May use out-of-network facilities, labs or other providers

Q: Can billing surprises be avoided?

A: To avoid surprise costs:

- Stay in contact with a UnitedHealthcare Advocate about upcoming services
- Be aware that using out-of-network providers increases the risk of surprise bills later

Q: What if a network provider is not available?

A: If a network provider is not available within 30 miles of the patient's home, contact a UnitedHealthcare Advocate, who can provide direction for "Network Gap Exception." A "Network Gap Exception" approval allows the plan to pay claims for approved services at the network level of benefits. It is at the provider's discretion as to whether they will agree to a discounted rate, require payment upfront or submit claims directly to the plan.

Q: How can I find a network provider?

A: To find a network provider for:

- Behavioral health and medical services – Call a UnitedHealthcare Advocate or sign in to myuhc.com, choose Find Care & Costs and type LGBTQ in the search bar
- Hair-related services – Call a UnitedHealthcare Advocate for assistance

Q: What if I choose to use an out-of-network provider?

A: If there are network providers within 30 miles of your home, but you choose to use an out-of-network provider, coverage will be subject to out-of-network benefits, and you will be responsible for costs not covered by your health plan.
